Social settings

Enable discussion forum

Students can participate in discussions with other Duolingo users not in the classroom.

Enable events page

Students can participate in Duolingo community-organized events. Please note that all minors must be accompanied by an adult.

Enable social profiles and leagues

Students can make or accept friend requests from other Duolingo users in and outside of the classroom. Students can follow friends' progress and comment on their activities. Students can compete against other Duolingo users in a weekly league. Users with age-restricted or private accounts will not be able to participate.

Classroom leaderboards

Only students from the same class compete against each other. You can specify the competition start date below.

By having classroom leaderboards enabled, you are overriding public leaderboards. Currently, classroom leaderboards can only be viewed from the Duolingo website. All student activity completed in the course will count towards the competition.

The screenshot displays a Duolingo classroom interface. At the top, a green banner for 'Unit 91' indicates the current topic: 'Use pronouns, use y and en'. Below this, a vertical path of icons leads to 'Unit 92', which focuses on 'Talk about your siblings'. The path includes icons for a checkmark, a book, a green owl, a printer, a lock, a book, and a shield. A 'START' button with a star icon is also visible.

On the right side, the 'My Assignments' section shows a task for '10 XP' due on Thursday, September 1st. Below that, the 'Schools Team Classroom' section shows a leaderboard with 3 days remaining. The leaderboard lists three students: Jay with 204 XP, Bridgette with 104 XP, and Steph with 90 XP.

The 'XP Progress' section features a 'Daily Goal' progress bar at 40/100 XP and a line graph showing XP earned over the week (Monday to Sunday). The graph shows a high XP gain on Monday, followed by a sharp drop and minimal gains for the rest of the week.

At the bottom right, the 'Progress Quiz' section indicates that the user has not taken a quiz in 6 months and offers a 'TAKE A QUIZ' button.

quick ideas to use duolingo with your class

Assign as homework

You can assign specific skills or an XP goal for students to meet by practicing with any activity they choose.

Extra credit

Use XP assignments as extra credit to reward students for doing work on their own time.

Daily warm-up

Have students work on Duolingo at the start of class. Set a time or a specific goal to reach as they settle in.

Play as a group

Race against the clock to see who can get the most XP, or divide into teams for some friendly competition.

Use as a reinforcement

Early finishers or those who need extra help can keep going at their own pace on material that's at their level.

Present as a reward

Use "Duolingo time" as a reward... if you have students who have earned it!

Implement Duolingo in your classroom in just 5 days!

01 Familiarize yourself with the platform

Visit schools.duolingo.com and login--you can use your personal account or use your school email to create a Schools-specific account. Next, create your classroom! Consider adding your email as a student, so that you can see the app through your students' eyes.

02 Invite students to join your classroom

Add your students from your Duolingo for Schools teacher dashboard. Don't forget to print the PDF at the last step; it has all of your students' login information and instructions! Budget additional time as needed for this step, based on how many classes you teach.

03 Sample a lesson with your students

Open the Duolingo for Schools student account that you created in step one. Complete a think-aloud by modeling a lesson for your whole class to observe.

04 Create classroom procedures

Work with your students to determine appropriate times for them to utilize the app on their own, such as when they finish their work or when they wait for class to begin.

05 Extend students' learning outside of class

Provide structures or incentives for your students to utilize Duolingo for Schools outside of the classroom. Consider XP (experience) assignments, where students earn points based on participation, to encourage them to further their learning journeys. Just a few minutes a day will keep their skills fresh!

duobingo

Duobingo: Find someone to write their name in a box that corresponds with something true about themselves. If you have a small group, consider allowing someone to write their name in more than one box. The first to collect a BINGO (5 in a row) wins. Duo the owl is a free space.

Desk slam!

For classrooms with a smartboard or projector:

- Split the class into teams; teams pick a name and choose who'll start as their "leader" (this can change every round).
- MC/teacher makes a scoreboard on the board.
- Run a Duolingo lesson on a projector, and have the teams SLAM their desks with their hands once they have a consensus on the answer. The consensus part is important!
- The team's leader dictates their answer, which the MC inputs into Duolingo. The MC double checks with the team before submitting.
- Give points, rotate leaders, repeat!

PROTIP

Turn off audio input unless you have an advanced/brave group!

Bonfire

Limited number of devices in the classroom?
This works for groups and as a whole class:

- Have each group sit in a circle with one device.
- The student with the device reads or describes the question out loud.
- The group discusses and decides on a single answer.
- The person with the device enters the answer into Duolingo.
- When the group has chosen the correct answer, have the first student pass the device to the person next to them and do it again.

PROTIP

You can have small groups
"race" to finish their lessons.

Messenger

A competitive and exciting review activity for a skill that the class has completed together.

- Pre-select key sentences from a Duolingo skill and post them around the class/school so students need to physically move to read them.
- Students work in pairs or teams to complete a relay "race," where one team member goes to where the sentence is posted and runs back to their team's station where a "writer" transcribes the sentence, dictated by the messenger.
- The first team to report to the teacher with their full list of sentences, all accurately transcribed, wins!

PRO TIP

Select your locations carefully, as this game might quickly turn into a lot of running around.

Catch them all!

Let's go on a word collecting adventure!

- Prepare by opening the "assign" tab in your Duolingo for Schools classroom page.
- Find the skill you are working on and select 10 words for students to "hunt" as they go through that skill's exercises.
- When they spot one of the special words in a lesson, they should write the full sentence down. They might have to do several lessons.
- How many of the words can each student/team "catch" within the time limit?

PRO TIP

Change the game: groups can "claim" words they get to first.
